Rains, Hail, Floods Hit Area; Damage In Millions

Heavy weekend storm damage to crops in Western Kentucky and Southwest Tennessee was reported on Monday, following rains throughout the two-day period.

The most complete damage report came from the rich delta land of Fulton County.

Here, said County Agent John Watts, the excessive rainfall will cost Fulton farmers $300,000 to $400,000 in cotton, corn and wheat losses.

The annual income from Fulton farms is between $4 million and $5 million.

Watts said nearly six inches of rain fell in his county and that low spots of the flat croplands were flooded. This will cause extensive loss of young cotton plants and corn, he said.

"Our damage has been considerable but it isn't anything from which we can't recover. Our people will plant soybeans in the low spots that have been hard hit. Of course this means we have lost what it took to plant the corn and cotton to start with and, also, cotton and corn usually bring a little more money than soybeans," Watts reported.

Much of the vast Fulton crop of corn escaped major damage—since it is

Spirited Legislature Races Spotlight Tuesday Vote

Next Tuesday, May 23, Kentuckians will go to the polls to select party candidates in the primary, concluding what some observers regard as "one of the duller" political contests in State history around the state at large.

The heavily-Democratic First District has a choice of ten candidates for Governor headed by former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward, a native son, who has strong administration support, and who is well-liked in his district. Ward's strongest opponent apparently is an aging former-governor A. B. ("Happy") Chandler, who until this week had scarcely created a ripple in the quiet campaign waters until he ventured to Paducah, stoutly maintaining that he has the nomination "won". Another opponent is Harry Lee Waterfield, also a native son, present Lieutenant-Governor and former running-mate of Chandler's, and seven others. The complete copy of the ballot will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Interest in the Lieutenant-Governor's race has centered on Robert ("Bob") Matthews, presently Attorney-General, and Senator Wendell Ford, Owensboro. Both have visited the area several times and are well-known here. A third in their race, Harry King Lowman, Ashland, long-time member of the legislature, is relatively unknown here.

Eight other state offices are included on the ballot.

However, if the state-at-large campaign can be characterized as thus far "dull and quiet", the area battle for seats in the legislature has been both lively and vigorous. A spirited drive by a young Mayfield lawyer, Carroll Hubbard, Jr. to unseat State Senator George Brand has been carried throughout the length and breadth of the First Senatorial District since early in the year via the communications media, circulars, cards, letters and personal visiting. Both candidates are working long and hard on their campaigns and against each other. A third man in this race is Elton Ramage, also a Graves Countian, who has chosen to work quietly and away from the fanfare that has surrounded his opponents.

In the race for State Representative, incumbent Henry Maddox, a Fulton Countian, is opposed by Tot Waldon from Ballard County. Maddox must gain enough strength from the lower end of his district to offset that of Waldon, who is reportedly strong in the upper two river counties where he is in the insurance business.

Principal interest in and around Fulton centers on the race for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, State Senator and Representative.

Kentucky's commissioner of commerce, a Frankfort realtor, the wife of the president of Berea College, a member of the University of Kentucky board of trustees and a Fulton newspaper editor are among Kentucky's ten outstanding women.

The women were honored at a luncheon last Saturday, May 13, at Spindletop Hall, sponsored by the Kentucky Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Jo's Notebook On The Campaign Trail

Gladys Ward Says She Is Jack Of All Trades! That's For Sure!

by Jo Westpheling
(With Gladys Ward)

"I'm a jack of all trades."

That's what Gladys Ward tells the thousands of Kentucky women who have attended the many meetings held in her honor all over the State as she campaigns vigorously for her husband, Henry, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In these last few days before the election on May 23 it is my pleasure to be travelling with Gladys, state women's chairman Mrs. Anne Combs of Lexington and on various occasions with Mrs. Frances Breathitt, wife of the present governor of Kentucky and with Mrs. Bert Combs wife of the former governor and soon-to-be sworn in as a Federal Judge for the Kentucky district.

This week I have been the principal speaker at meetings in Prestonsburg (Monday), Ashland (Wednesday) and Bowling Green (Thursday).

Although I have known Gladys Ward for a very long time, I have gotten to know a lot more of this handsome, dynamic, and extremely friendly former resident of Paducah.

Riding along in all kinds of weather, and all kinds of transportation

(auto, bus, planes, etc.) Gladys and I have talked long about our common interests, not so much on political lines as on the lady-of-house role we both share.

I'll add my impression of her. She's master of many, for she does them well.

When Henry Ward first saw her more than 30 years ago he proved himself a fast worker with an eye for beauty.

MRS. WARD had a job at the Irvin Cobb Hotel, Paducah, and Henry was city editor of the Sun Democrat.

They first met when Gladys, a stunning brunet, was a candidate in the beauty pageant which Henry was to judge.

The contest was Sept. 3. Gladys won it and Henry. She became Henry's bride Sept. 24!

NOW SHE COMES second with Henry, who is dedicated to his public service role which he has followed for many years. "I don't like taking second place, but it's something I must put up with."

Gladys describes her husband as

Henry Ward Coming Here For Speech Next Monday

Henry Ward, Democratic candidate for governor in Tuesday's primary will be in Fulton County Monday, May 22, with a huge motorcade, reminiscent of the campaign wind-ups of the late Alben W. Barkley.

The tour, made famous by the late beloved Alben W. Barkley, includes stops in all of the Purchase counties. The Veep made this tour on election eve for many years stumping for his own candidacy as well as many other Democrats.

Ward, the odds-on favorite to win the primary by a large majority, will speak at 11 a. m. in Hickman and at 12:15 p. m. in Fulton.

A native of McCracken County in Western Kentucky, Ward will spend the last two days of his campaign touring his home area.

"I know of no better way to conclude a successful campaign than to return home where the people live who have had a chance to know me best," Ward said.

During the final week of the campaign, Ward motorcades will tour 16 counties in Western Kentucky, including McCracken where Ward began his education in public service as a young newspaperman and legislator at the knee of the late "Veep."

During his campaign, Ward has emphasized that he is running on his record as a newspaperman, legislator, businessman and administrator of two of the largest departments in state government—highways and conservation—and, more importantly what he can do and will do for Kentucky.

GENERAL MEETING

The general membership meeting of the Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the Chamber building at 7 p. m. next Monday, May 22. All members are urged to attend.

Rust Retires

H. A. Rust, traveling train auditor of the Illinois Central and former Fulton trainmaster, will retire June 1st after 50 years' service. He lives in Dyersburg.

Steve Jones Wins

Steve Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones of Fulton and a graduating senior at Fulton High school, has been declared first-place winner in the Valley District essay contest on Good Citizenship.

Gladys Ward says she is no speech-maker, but she is a good sport when it comes to thanking people for their support of her husband. Mrs. Anne Combs, state campaign chairman is standing behind Mrs. Ward. The meeting was in Elizabethtown.

Gladys Ward is shown greeting the crowds that have been attending meetings of her husband's candidacy for governor. Candidate Ward is shown in left background beaming at his "campaigning" wife.

Tuesday Is Election Day In Kentucky; Have You Decided Who you Are Going To Vote For?

Next Tuesday, May 23, is Primary election day in Kentucky, and as far as the Purchase area is concerned, it is the "Big One" for State legislative candidates, since they have no Republican opposition.

Please plan to cast YOUR vote next Tuesday. It is an often-sad spectacle in this country that people are too occupied or too lazy to go to the polls and vote, when for instance, in the little war-torn country of Viet Nam they risk their neck to participate in this freedom of choice to select their leaders. We fight furiously so Viet Nam can do these things, then don't even do them ourselves!

Are we too well-fed, fat and lazy to go to the polls and exercise a little intelligence in voting for men to run our State and to represent us in its legislature? We hope not, although the record proves that far too many people just don't seem to want to take the trouble: they just don't care.

There has been spirited campaigning among candidates running for State Representative and State Senator in this area, and all have made their stands pretty clear. As this issue goes to press, practically all of them have taken space in it for a final word to say to you. READ their statements, CONSIDER their qualifications and what they stand for, and then go VOTE next Tuesday for whomever you best think reflects your thinking.

The News has not sought to influence your thinking one way or other on these local Legislative races, except to say that whoever goes to Frankfort from this area needs to be a good, strong voice of the area who will represent us creditably, and be a reflection of our good judgement.

Nor have we singled out one man in the Democratic contest for Lieutenant-Governor.

The Governor's race, however, is different. We believe that in Henry Ward we have an excellent administrator, a fair and tough executive who does as he says, and says as he does with no double-talk, and a fine record of achievement to back it up. Henry Ward is certainly a friend of Fulton's and a friend of the Purchase. His integrity is beyond question and has never been under attack even by his most irritated opponents. He has handled hundreds of millions of dollars in State money during his years of influence in State Government, and not even his severest critic can accuse him of pocketing one dime of it, or of using his influence to build a personal empire of any sort. He just isn't that kind of a man.

THAT'S the kind of man we hope will be Kentucky's next Governor.

If you think one of the other candidates can do better, by all means VOTE for him next Tuesday, but... when Tuesday rolls around... VOTE!

Congratulations, Grads! What's Ahead For You??

School's out this week, and around the twin cities there are eighty-four graduates who have completed their twelve years of schooling.

Our congratulations to all of you. What's next? we might add.

By all means go to some college if you possibly can make it. Get all of the education you can possibly get; work your way through if you have to; you'll never regret taking four more years to prepare you for a lifetime of earning. A college education means a better job, more money, more enjoyment and much better circumstances for you in years to come. If you don't get it now, you'll never get it.

There will be some of you who have starry-eyed visions of becoming "great" in some specific field... and we say to you "that's wonderful". Buckle down and devote every energy to climbing the ladder in whatever field you want, and YOU CAN DO IT. Nothing is impossible if you have a mind to do it and the determination to stay with it. Once you are out of high school, you began to specialize in some particular field, and there is plenty of room and fine opportunities in almost any specialized field or profession you choose. You don't need money and you don't have to be the smartest in the class to get good jobs and make your way "up". All you need is determination, and application!... and be willing to work. It's really that simple.

There will be a lot of you who just don't know WHAT you want to make of yourself yet. You're mentally milling around wondering what you ought to get into... what you are suited for... what you should choose for a life's work. To you, our advice is to go on to college by all means, and let the doors of your mind begin to open as your schooling continues and you will surely find yourself before this important 4-year period is over. You've got to give yourself a chance.

To all eighty-four of you graduates, we would like to leave this last little thought: wherever you go, whatever you specialize in, however long you may be away, however glamorous the life in the larger cities may seem in your first post-school years of freedom, always remember that the life in a small town is a good life, and we would hope that someday you will come back here to stay. You are living in one of the finest areas in the nation.

Plumbicare? Electricare?!

In a feature story the Port Townsend (Washington) LEADER explained Plumbicare—a plan by which we can save through social security for our old-age plumbing bills. Story said it was a known fact that people over 65 have more plumbing trouble than do younger people.

Under the Plumbicare plan, all of the plumbing bills of those over 65 would be paid. The whole thing would be financed by social security. We all know, the story explained, that many senior citizens are often faced with staggering plumbing bills in their twilight years.

Story concluded with, "if we can unite our brethren in Washington and force passage of Plumbicare, the way will be clear for Electricare, Autocare, Teeveecare—and then the ultimate goal of our welfare state, Embalmicare."

Dare to be different for God. Man will admire you and God will honor you. Take your place in the world in the interest of Heaven.

"Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." Psalms 103:3

Trust Him for the forgiveness of your sins, and the healing of your body. "Jesus Christ the same yesterday and today and forever." "I am the Lord that healeth thee..." "Is there anything too hard for the Lord?"

POET'S CORNER

OPPORTUNITY

They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in,
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake, and rise to fight and win.

Wail not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day;
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.

Tho' deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say, "I can!"
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep
But yet might rise and be again a man.

Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast?
Dost reel from righteous retribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past
And find the future's pages white as snow.

Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell;
Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from Hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to Heaven.

By Brenda Rowlett

Romance and adventure, laughter and illusion, dreams and desperate hopes, fear and angry resentment—these things have prodded men's minds as they walked toward our century. Their insight is our heritage.

A SHORT HISTORY OF AFRICA, by Roland Oliver. For years now there has been an urgent need for a concise history of Africa. Although much has been written on different regions of Africa and different periods of her long development—colonial histories of the European powers, current affairs, etc., there has been nothing that offers the general reader an overall view of African history from the earliest times to the Pan-African meetings of Monrovia and Casablanca. The reader will find all these things in this book.

THE SHACKLES OF POWER, by John Dos Passos. This is the history of our early golden age. In telling it, Mr. Passos interweaves the story of Thomas Jefferson with those of Madison, Monroe, and John Quincy Adams, who followed him. THE SMOKEJUMPERS, by Randle M. Hurst. The Smokejumpers is the true story of flying parachute jumping, and fire fighting. Every smokejumper in the story is a living person, every place is a real place, and every event actually happened.

MOVIN' ON UP, by Evan McClelland Wylie. "Gospel music is nothing but singing of good tidings—straight from the human heart." These words, straight from the heart of Mahalia Jackson, the great gospel singer who has devoted her life to "spreading the good news" all over the world, highlight the triumphs and tragedies, the joys and hardships of her own life.

ROMANTIC REBELS, by Emily Hahn. What was "Bohemia"—and why? How did it get to America? What was the connecting link between the Paris of Murger and the Provincetown of Eugene O'Neill? Where is Bohemia now? In an account as hard to put down as a detective story, the author traces its rise and fall, from Edgar Allan Poe, to Ezra Pound, from Amy Lowell and Floyd Dell to Jack Kerouac and Allen Ginsberg.

THE SCIENCE OF GEMS, by P. J. Fisher. Diamond, emerald, ruby, sapphire, and pearl—the roles these beautiful stones and others have played in history are first described. Here the author takes us from the days of the Roman Emperors, to cathedral altars and furnishings richly bedecked with jewels of the Middle Ages, and on to Salvador Dali and his ultra-modern creations, among them a golden heart with a jeweled crown inset with an ornamental pulsating heart.

A SEARCH FOR THE TRUTH, by Ruth Montgomery. The author of A Gift of Prophecy, the phenomenal story of prophetess Jeanne Dixon, tells about her further experiences in the field of psychic phenomena and her search for the deeper meaning of life.

GOD BEYOND DOUBT, by Geddes MacGregor. This powerful book discusses questions about God in a contemporary idiom, and reassesses the affirmations of faith in terms of what is being said by the "God-is-dead" theologians and others.

PILGRIM COLONY, by George D. Langdon, Jr. Mr. Langdon, in the first full-scale and scholarly history of New Plymouth Colony, shows how seventeenth-century Plymouth developed independently of neighboring Massachusetts. This is a thoughtful and persuasive discussion of a subject that strangely has been one of the neglected subjects in American history.

THE AUSTRALIANS, by Harry Cox. The story of the big continent down under as seen through the eyes of one of its most prominent journalists. Mr. Cox manages to make his country more vivid through close-ups of some of its more important characters.

THE FURIOUS PASSAGE OF JAMES BALDWIN, by Fern Marja Eckman. He has been called passionate and violent, cryptic and probing, hostile and eloquent. His works have been called brilliant and unbearable, poetic and documentary, classic and controversial. He has made himself a personification of his entire race, a living analogy of their struggle. His words, which have compelled, agitated and hypnotized a nation, are now heard around the world.

CARING FOR THE AGED, by Bertram B. Moss, M. D. An experienced Doctor's practical, specific advice for those who must cope with the social, financial, medical, or psychological problems of the elderly.

Sandra Arnett Inspiration For Lovely Gift Tea

Miss Sandra Arnett, bride-elect of Mr. William Grant Wynn, was the inspiration for a gift tea last Sunday, May 7, in the home of Mrs. Carl Pirtle of Water Valley.

Receiving the guests with Mrs. Pirtle were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Virgil Arnett. Miss Arnett wore a lovely multi-colored chiffon dress, with a gift corsage of pink carnations tied with pink ribbon. Presiding at the register was Miss Marilyn Coltharp.

The dinner table was draped with a handsome imported Belgian linen cloth with lace inserts, over pink. Centering the table was a lovely arrangement of pink roses, flanked with pink tapers. The house was beautifully decorated with colorful arrangements of spring flowers.

Individual iced cakes, mints, nuts and punch were served. Assisting in serving were the co-hostesses: Mrs. Bowd Hopkins, Mrs. Jonah Bennett, Mrs. Hal Kizer, Mrs. Herman McKeel, Mrs. Roy Latta, Mrs. Edgar Bell and Mrs. U. S. Copeland.

The gifts were beautifully displayed. Approximately eighty guests called between the hours of two and five o'clock.

VOTE FOR AND RE-ELECT

On May 23rd, 1967

Henry Maddox
State Representative

A MAN YOU KNOW AND KNOW WHAT HE STANDS FOR.

HENRY MADDOX

My opponent and I were asked to appear before the Ballard County Educational Association recently and I had already received a copy of the KEA Legislative 19-point Program.

When I was asked what I thought of the 1968 KEA Program, I told them I would not commit myself because I did not know what bills would come from it nor what amendments would be tied to the bills, but that I would bend over backward to support the educational bills the Superintendent of Public Instruction would put in the hopper. Of the 19-point Program I was asked by the president about Point No. 5 which reads "THE STATUTORY LIMITATION ON SCHOOL TAX RATES THAT MAY BE SET BY ELECTED LOCAL BOARDS OF EDUCATION SHOULD BE REMOVED."

I would vote for a bill that has a referendum, which means that it would be put on the ballot so that you the people will have a chance to vote on Point No. 5.

My opponent being a former school teacher and also a former member of the KEA said he was 100 per cent for the KEA 19-point program because teachers were leaving Kentucky to teach in other states. He also said he had contacted other educational groups in his counties and told them he was 100 per cent for the 1968 KEA Legislative Program. If I had made this statement I would feel I was a lobbyist for the KEA instead of a Representative for the people. I think teachers have been used as puppets to get on the sympathy of the people to get taxes increased and then they have not gotten their fair share of the increase. I believe our teachers salaries should be raised to the national level. Every dollar we spend for education is a dollar well spent.

I am sure something will have to be done in the 1968 session of the Legislature about the 100% cash value assessment on property. I say again as I have always said when taxes are raised you the people should raise them.

Thanks for your consideration and attention - better still
THANKS FOR YOUR VOTE AND RE-ELECT

Graduation Week To Climax This Year's Activities At Fulton High

"From The FHS Kennel"
Sunday, May 21, will begin the full round of activities for the 1967 graduating class of FHS.

Honors Day Highlights Close Of School Year

"From The FHS Kennel"
The 34th honors day program of Fulton High School will be held at 9:30 A. M., Wednesday, May 24th in the Fulton High School auditorium. It will be a joyous occasion for many students but sad as it will be the last one for Superintendent W. L. Holland and Mr. Mansfield Martin, Principal. The program will open with the welcome by Honor's Day Speaker, John Reed and the Honor Society Pledge by President Steve Jones.

This is strictly a student's program and probably the most coveted awards are the monograms as they represent one or two or three or four semesters on the honor roll. These will be presented by Tom Nanney, Senior class President, and Donnie Noles, Junior class President.

Mr. Holland will give the G. S. I. award again this year and we wonder who will receive it. Fulton High School, Valedictorian, and Honors Day Speaker Awards will be presented by Principal J. M. Martin.

Other awards will be given as follows: Future Homemaker Awards Roma Foster; Future Teachers Award, Mrs. Leonard Allen; Fulton High Kennel Awards, Mrs. Wilton Marchman; High School Annual Award, Mrs. Ray Steele; Quill and Scroll Journalism Award, Steve Jones and Brenda McBride; Music Awards, Mr. Mandel Brown; Industrial Arts Award, Mr. W. C. Robertson; Library Awards, Mrs. Ray Steele; Cheeleader Awards, Mrs. Richard Cardwell; Gold Football and Basketball, Coach Frank McCann; Fulton High Bulldog Awards, Principal J. M. Martin.

The program will end with the eloquent recognition of the Senior Class by Superintendent W. L. Holland, the benediction, and the hanging of the Senior picture.

The Baccalaureate will begin in the Carr Auditorium at 8:00 p. m. The program will begin with the Mr. Mandel Brown; followed by the Invocation, given by the Rev. W. W. Kitterman of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Henry M. Hanna of the First Christian Church will give the Scripture Reading. The Baccalaureate Address will be given by the Rev. Homer E. Johns of the Methodist Church. Rev. Kitterman will then give the Benediction, followed by the Recessional.

Commencement Exercises will be held Tuesday, May 23, at 8:00 p. m. The program for the evening will be as follows: Processional, "Coronation March," by Mr. Mandel Brown; Invocation by the Rev. James Best of the First Baptist Church; Salutatory Address by William Steven Jones; Valedictory Address by William Michael Campbell; Piano Solo by John Reed; presentation of speaker by Supt. W. L. Holland; and the Commencement Address, "The Happy Few," by Dr. Ray Mofield of Murray State University.

Principal J. M. Martin will present the class and Mr. Gene E. Hatfield, Chairman of the Board of Education, will present the diplomas. The ceremonies will close with a Benediction by Rev. Best, and Mr. Brown will play "Pomp and Circumstance" for the Recessional.

HAM PROMOTION!

Promotion of Kentucky country ham will spearhead a planned national promotion of Kentucky's farm products. The campaign will be conducted by the Governor's Commission on Agriculture, the State Departments of Agriculture and Public Information, the University of Kentucky and country ham producers.

MILLER'S BARN

The pioneer settlement that became Richmond, Kentucky, was made in 1784 by Colonel John Miller, who had served at Yorktown. When Richmond was made the seat of county government, in 1798, the first court was held in Colonel Miller's barn, the site of the present court house.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Frieled

Wess Jones is a patient in Volunteer Hospital at Martin, undergoing some treatment. We hope he will respond very quickly and be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell Farmer left Sunday for their home in St. Louis, after a week's vacation as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grover True and other relatives round about this area. They report a nice visit while here.

Rev. Russell Rogers filled his appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. The attendance fell off due to down-pour of rain, and the night service was called off because of high water and damaged bridges.

Mrs. David Lassiter and children, Jacqueline and David Keith, arrived Saturday from Akron, Ohio, for a visit with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mancil Wright, Dresden Route, and Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter near here.

I have just recently visited with grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Argo, Chad and Kimberly, in Hickman. While there attended the Fulton County band concert and buffet supper at E. W. James' Market. The meal was served by the band mothers and proceeds will go to the band. Many attended, with serving from 5 to 7 p. m.

Grover True feels some better than a few weeks ago, but has been indisposed for a few weeks.

Grant Bynum hasn't been feeling so well and rest is disturbed to the extent that requires some medication. He was in Jackson some ten days ago for his regular five week checkup.

Rain of five or more inches fell in this area over the past week-end and all lowlands were flooded. Bridges were damaged and abutments washed away. Bottom fields of corn stood in several feet of water, requiring a re-plant job. Fertilizers are a total loss.

Our village was overflowed and caused the evacuation of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis to higher ground. Water entered their home and stood at several inches.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Palestine Homemakers will meet tomorrow (Friday) in the Palestine Community Center at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. J. M. Mayberry will give a book review. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Senate Passes Civil Rights Bill; Breathitt Will Sign It Thursday At Lincoln's Statue

By SY RAMSEY

Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT (AP)—Gov. Ed-ward T. Breathitt, adding a touch of drama to Kentucky's new civil rights bill, will sign it Thursday morning at the base of Abraham Lincoln's statue in the Capitol rotunda.

The state has become the first south of the Mason-Dixon line to enact a comprehensive measure which bars racial discrimination in public accommodations and jobs. The law takes effect July 1.

The measure which glided through the House 76-12 last week won 36-1 Senate approval Tuesday. By prior bipartisan agreement, no amendments were offered although a dozen had been prepared.

Yet the only opposition voiced by senators in less than an hour of debate was on the ground it is too weak.

Only two senators, both Democrats from segregation-leaning Western Kentucky, failed to vote for the measure.

Sen. Thomas Brizendine of Franklin passed and Sen. George Brand of Mayfield switched from "yes" to "no."

Maryland passed a law in 1962 which banned racial discrimination by hotels and motels and last year approved a measure containing fair employment provisions identical to the federal act.

for waitresses in Kentucky from 75¢ an hour to 50¢ an hour! (SB 248)

In the 1966 session, Senator Brand voted against labor SIX times, on one occasion voting for a child labor bill (SB 217) that would have allowed children under 18 to work where alcoholic beverages are sold!

Nothing, however, can match the duplicity of Senator Brand on the civil rights bill!

We watched from the galleries . . . BRAND SHOUTED "AYE" FOR THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL. LATER, SEEING ALL OTHER SENATORS VOTE FOR THE BILL AND KNOWING HIS OWN VOTE WAS NOT NEEDED, SENATOR BRAND OILED HIS WAY UP TO THE CLERK'S DESK AND CHANGED HIS VOTE TO "NAY!"

He could tell the Governor that he supported the bill. And he could go back home and tell folks he opposed it!

We have endorsed CARROLL HUBBARD, Brand's opponent!

McCann Receives Annual At Assembly

A surprised Coach McCann receives his yearbook at the Annual Dedication Ceremony. Oddly enough, Coach McCann did not make a pep talk about the football team.

"From The FHS Kennel"
This year's edition of the Gr-r-owl was dedicated to one of Fulton High's most dedicated teachers, our coach, Frank McCann.
Coach McCann came to Fulton in 1963 and has led us loyally through many a crucial moment since. He attended high school at Roman Catholic High School in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. After graduation he went to the University of North Carolina for two years then on to U. T. M. B. for three years where he received his B. S. degree in Health and Physical Education. His college minor was history. Coach McCann then acquired his masters degree at Murray State College.
In accepting the annual Mr. McCann said, "This is a great surprise to me. I feel it is a great honor, and I really do appreciate it."
The many reasons for dedicating this year's Gr-r-owl to Mr. McCann can best be expressed by the dedication itself, which was read by co-editor Randall Roper.
"Sports are a unifying factor in any high school. In FHS, the sports scene has instilled the student body with enthusiasm and, above all, genuine pride. We feel that it is now time to honor that person whose dedication to his boys has inspired countless victories. All those who have been coached by him have acquired high ideals of sportsmanship and the understanding of true victory—that it is not whether you win the game but how you play it.

"We, the class of 1967, in appreciation of his contribution to our class, do dedicate this Gr-r-owl to our football coach, Frank McCann."
Following the dedication Janie Noles, speaking for the Senior class as well as the entire student body, presented an annual to Mr. W. L. Holland as a tribute for the many years he has devoted to the education of the youth of Fulton, Kentucky. The student body responded with a standing ovation to Mr. Holland.
FHS loses a man loved and admired by many Fulton High students, past and present. To all of us who have known and respected

Track Team Opens 1967 Season With Regional, Conference Meets

"From The FHS Kennel"
On April 17th, the final athletic season of this school year began. This spring Fulton High School again competed for honors in the world's oldest game—track. Although the track season lasted for less than a month, nine boys competed in two track meets during May. On May 6th, our track team attended the Western Kentucky Conference Invitational at Fort Campbell. Then on May 13th, Coach Boehringer and the nine members of the team went to the Regional Track Meet at Paducah, Kentucky, where they competed with several other schools for honor.

On the team were David Dunn, Steve Fly, Jodie Gambill, Terry Harris, David Jones, Gary McIntosh, William Pickard, Sammy Pirtle, and one injured member who could not compete in any events, David Peebles.

UK Broadcast

As early as 1929, the University of Kentucky began broadcasting through a commercial radio station a 15-minute program directed to "listening centers" in Eastern Kentucky. In 1933, Elmer G. Sulzer established a studio on campus.

Mike Yates Will Lead FHS Band

"From The FHS Kennel"

Mike Yates, a Fulton High School sophomore, has been named to succeed John Reed as drum major of Fulton High's marching band. The announcement was made at the band concert Friday night. Mike is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lynch. Beginning his study of the trumpet in the fifth grade and later changing to the French Horn, he has held the position of solo horn for three years. He has received two superior ratings on the French Horn in the Murray musical festival, is an active member of the Junior Music Club and was recently elected to be officer of president of that same organization for the coming year. Mike has studied piano for about four years and is an active member of the First Baptist Church.

"The selection of a drum major is one of the most difficult jobs I have," said band director Mandel Brown. "It is not a spur of the moment decision, but a year long process of examining each potential candidate. The position of drum major is both an honor and a responsibility. We want a student who will present a good appearance to the public at the head of the marching band and a student whose conduct and citizenship will be unquestioned. He must be interested in the work and promotion of the band, have a good academic standing, exhibit maturity in his actions and thinking, have a sense of imagination in leadership, and

"From The FHS Kennel" must be or show potential of becoming one of the outstanding musicians in the band."

In presenting Mike with the silver drum major signal baton, John ended his four years of exceptional service as leader of the marching band. John is also a talented musician and has contributed much to the growth and improvement of the band.

Mrs. Ada Ross returned to her home from Volunteer Hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Della Holt will be staying with her.

A bridal tea was given Miss Sarah Ann Dacus Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Darnell, with Mrs. Roy Thomas co-hostess. The house was beautifully decorated with roses grown and arranged by Mrs. Loyd Watkins. The gifts, about fifty in number, were displayed on a long table and, in spite of the rain and other hindrances, many friends came to enjoy the occasion with Sarah Ann, who will be married June 10 to James Michael Burton. He is also a teacher in the Waterloo, Illinois school system.

We had such bad weather on Sunday and Jackson Funeral Home had two funerals. Mrs. Lora Moore of St. Louis was buried at Good Springs. She was the wife of "G" Moore and they were former residents here. Cleve Cruse passed away Friday at Fulton Hospital. His funeral was preached at Pilot Oak Baptist Church, where he was a member, on Sunday, but burial had to be delayed until Tuesday, due to the condition of the ground.

Six of our young people received diplomas from Dresden High School Monday night. They were: John Travis Dacus, Sandra Marr, Michael congratulations to each one, with best wishes.

CHESTNUT GLADE
By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

The weather continues to be the main topic of conversation, with four inches of rainfall in this community during the week-end.

Sympathy is extended to the members of the family of W. A. (Buck) Mason, who passed away in the Volunteer Hospital Friday afternoon, after a few days of critical condition, following a stroke in the Weakley County Nursing Home, where he had been a resident for the past few years. Mr. Buck was an avid reader and an unusually gifted conversationalist, with a cheerful and interesting reply to each greeting. It can be truly said that one always felt better after a visit with him during his long life of eighty-four years. Funeral service was at New Hope Methodist Church, where he was a member, conducted by the pastor, Brother McCleary, and Brother Lois Carlin, a friend of many years. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Lena Taylor, and a member of nieces and nephews, also many friends who will never forget his many kind and encouraging words.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Brundige, from Nashville, and Mr. and Mrs. Buren Smith, from Martin, visited Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundige Sunday.

Mrs. Van Brann and Mrs. Opal Pounds are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughn.

Mrs. Van Brann, Mrs. June Wright and Mrs. Harvey Vaughn were among those who visited Mrs. Minnie Brann at the Hillview Nursing Home Sunday. Mrs. Brann was not feeling very well.

The Chestnut Glade Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Fred Vaughan next Thursday, May 18, at 1:30 p. m. Visitors are cordially invited.

The advertising managers are Joe Hoodenpyle, Linda Crider, Dennis Lohaus, and Shelia Owens. They will sell ads to businesses in town. The business managers will be Jane Sublette and Lady Rose Craddock. Their jobs will be to keep up with all income, deposits and advertising sales.

Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Steel are the advisers for the Gr-r-rol.

The Boy Who Never Grew Up

(From The SFH Scarlet Flash)
Some years ago Sir J. M. Barrie wrote a play called "Peter Pan." It was about a boy who overheard his parents discussing what they were going to make of him when he grew up. Right then he decided to run away to the fairies and never grow up.

Do you know that there are many teen-agers who seem to have made part of that decision. Perhaps most of them do not run away from home, but they do not grow up. They can not get along with their parents; and when they do not get their way, they put on a scene, making everyone thoroughly unhappy. They do not conduct themselves as young ladies and gentlemen, but as little spoiled children. You know, it is possible for a person to be six feet tall, seventeen years old, and still be just a "big baby." No one can tell him anything, and he resents any suggestions made to him. He balks at being told or reminded what to do, but will not do it without being told. He feels that anyone who tries to help him is trying to run his life, and therefore he will accept no help. He would rather do a poor job by himself than admit he needs help in order to do a good job.

When is a person grown up? When he begins to behave as a grown-up and mature person. An adult welcomes knowledge and helpful suggestions. He is guided by reason rather than by his emotions. An adult develops self-control and an even temper. An adult is willing to forgive, and does not spoil his life by holding grudges. An adult is forgetful of self because he thinks in terms of helping others. And yet he is always striving for self-improvement. Are you grown up or are you like Peter Pan, the boy who never grew up?

Prospects For Next Year Look Good In Spring Practice

(From The SFH Scarlet Flash)

Spring football practice was held the last week of March and the first three weeks of April. Forty-eight boys reported for this practice. Forty-one boys stayed for the entire spring. Few injuries plagued the squad all spring. Four broke their fingers and two received bad bruises.

The football squad for the coming year looks fair. A lot of work will have to be done, however, before our first game. Seven boys from last year's team were lost by graduation, and one boy was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident. So, we begin next year's schedule with only three boys from the preceding year.

We scrimmaged Sharon at Shar on March 13, and won 30-6. Things won't be as bad as they seem and the ball club has a lot of desire. I feel that you will be well-represented next fall by the South Fulton High School Red Devil Football team.

Mr. Montgomery: "Tell me, Fred, if you had 20 candy bars and gave seven to Marcle, five to Janet, and eight to Rene, what would you have then?"
Fred: "Three new girlfriends."

'A New Voice For Fulton County'

Carroll Hubbard, Jr.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FULTON COUNTY:

I ask that you please support my candidacy for State Senator in next Tuesday's election and thereby give me the chance to work for Fulton County the next four years.

One of my main projects as State Senator would be to work to secure for Fulton County more industry and more jobs.

If elected your State Senator I will work to secure from Frankfort a fair return of your tax money to Fulton County for your local needs, especially for your schools and county roads.

For several years I have been concerned about the neglect of state maintained Columbus-Belmont Park. If your State Senator I will work to secure more money from Frankfort to help this long neglected state park. One project would be to give this state park a first class swimming pool.

I am for progress in West Kentucky and all of Kentucky. However, as your State Senator I will work to relieve our present tax burden in Kentucky. I will introduce legislation in the 1968 legislature to give us relief on both the property tax and the income tax.

We will not slow down Kentucky's progress if we have wise spending of our tax money at Frankfort. Also, to make certain that with less taxes we do not lessen our state maintained programs we must fight for and receive a fairer return of our Federal tax money from Washington to our state capitol.

I am an independent candidate for State Senator. In and out of Frankfort I will represent you as one who thinks and acts independently. I will be voting my conscience and convictions but want you to give me your suggestions.

At all times I will be happy to give of my time to you for individual help as your State Senator.

Please do not be misled by desperate false claims, false accusations and false rumors being injected into this campaign.

IF YOU WANT A CHANGE IN SENATE SEAT NO. 1—
THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE IN THIS THREE MAN RACE.
ENOUGH SAID.

I am by birth and choice a West Kentuckian. I seek a chance to work for you and our area.

Thank you very much for considering my candidacy and for your kindness to me throughout this campaign.

Sincerely,

Carroll Hubbard, Jr.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

Joe Hoodenpyle, Janie Noles, Linda Crider, and Mrs. Cardwell debate their views on teenage independence in the forum.

Question Of Teenage Independence Is Discussed In F. H. S. Forum

"From The FHS Kennel"

QUESTION: Do you feel that teenagers today have too much independence?

Mrs. Cardwell: Today teenagers feel that they are completely shrouded by parental authority and that this authority stifles their individual freedom. This may be true in a few cases; however, for the most part, I feel that young people today expect more independence than they can actually handle.

All young people need to have a feeling of independence to attain self-assurance and this can be accomplished through a partnership between parents and young people. I feel that young people should be allowed to make decisions for themselves. However there is a point beyond which young people have no background on which to base an opinion, and it is at this point that parents should assume complete control and insist that their decisions be followed.

Yes, I feel that many of our young people have too much independence and that more teenagers would be happier if they realized that the parents do know best most of the time.

Linda Crider: I think the answering of this question depends largely on what type of person the teenager is and what kind of family the teenager comes from. Really this situation could be a two way street because some of today's teenagers have too much independence and some are not given enough. Those who do have quite a bit probably are more dependable and for this reason, their parents place this independence upon them. But others who are given the same amount sometimes get into trouble because they want to extend this grant too far. Being a teenager myself, I do not feel that I can give a definite answer, but I do feel that the independence of a teenager depends on the individual.

Joe Hoodenpyle: Generally, I believe teenagers have enough independence. By independence I mean the right to the car and an expandable curfew.

The teenager is usually the one to wash the car. He is usually the one to clean out the car. Although he may put more miles on it, he usually puts more gas in it. With all these things occurring I think it is only fair of the parents to allow the teenager to have the car when necessary. And I don't think the teenager should have to give a notice as to when he or she plans to use it.

As for the curfew, I believe on a school night 10:00 p. m. is appropriate and for week-ends 11:30 p. m. These standards are OK, but they should not be unchangeable. There should be some exceptions. A dance or concert, which are always out of town, are good examples. In cases such as these, the curfew should definitely be expanded.

Janie Noles: I feel that whether today's teenager has too much or not enough independence depends on the teenager himself. Some of today's teenagers are capable of accepting responsibilities, and some fail even to recognize responsibility. If a teenager is capable of facing responsibilities, he won't take excessive freedom for granted. Many of the teenagers of today as concerned only with gaining more freedom. For what? The responsible person uses his common sense by abiding to the regular schedule and takes advantage of his freedom only at "special" times. He is wiser than the person who is always taking advantage of certain freedoms, and when something special does come up, he has only a 50-50 chance of obtaining his request.

Of course there are extremes in the amount of independence as in any other thing. However, I feel that the amount of freedom or independence a person possesses today is sufficient to satisfy the everyday needs imposed by various common demands.

Introducing Our Churches - God's Agency For Spreading His Love

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS

* Church with a simple motto - Service.

* Mission Work - Taking the ringing command of Jesus: "Go ye into All the world," Matt. 28:19. Ready to help and in need, Adventists work in 189 countries of the world, is preaching in about 928 languages. Yearly Foreign Missions offerings are $18,733,101.

* Good-Neighbor Program - In North America about 8 million hours was donated by laymen through 2,762 Health and Welfare centers and Units.

* Educational Program - Adventists believe strongly in Religious Liberty and the fundamental principle of "separation of church and state."

* Medical Ministry - Jesus spent most of his ministry healing the sick and helping others. Adventists feel to be truly Christian (Christ following) is to do likewise, thus a large medical program is carried on by the church.

* Contributions and Finance - Obviously it costs a great deal to operate a world-wide program such as this. Offerings last year amounted to $118 million. The tithe was $69 million of this.

* Membership - there are 1,500,000 baptized adult church members. The U. S. membership amounts to 364,666 adult baptized members, although in the last U. S. census almost 2,000,000 persons listed themselves as Seventh-day Adventists or as their church preference.

* The Message - The Adventist church is truly Protestant and Christian. They believe in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, pre-existed with God the Father, for our sake born of a virgin, lived as a man among men, died on the cross as a complete atonement for our sins, rose again the third day, and ascended into heaven.

* All Welcome - The Adventist church doors are always open to all, no matter of what church, creed or race. The Fulton church welcomes any from this community to come and worship with them. Church services are Saturday: Sabbath School at 9:30; Worship service at 11:00; Prayer Meeting Tuesday 7:30 p. m.

GLADYS WARD— (Continued From Page One)

eventempered and sensitive. She too, is a veteran in government service, having been clerk in the House of Representatives "and loved it."

Mrs. Ward likes to cook and enjoys southern dishes and seafood. She was trying to lose two pounds, but has lost a total of 12.

"After the primary (May 23) I plan to eat like crazy," she confided.

WHEN SHE had the time she sewed and made all of Pat's clothes. Pat, her daughter is now Mrs. Dick Richards, who lives in Frankfort. The Richards have three children, Linda, 9, Ward, 6, and Ellen, 4.

Like all other grandmothers, Mrs. Ward has snaps of them in her purse and whipped them out to display proudly.

The Ward's home is a nine-room Dutch Colonial in the Cherokee section of Louisville. She decorated it herself in blues, greens and grays. She does her own housework.

The wife of this candidate has not had too much time for clubwork, but has been active in Girl Scouts and was made a member of the National Honor Board. Only three others in her county have received a similar honor.

She worked with the PTA, both in units and with the council.

SHE ENJOYS playing duplicate bridge. "I believe you have to play to be good," Henry's bridge, she described as "a social game."

Mrs. Ward also golfs and annexed the title at the Frankfort Country Club.

She enjoys fashioning artistic arrangements and antiquing flowers. She does both Flemish and a style she has developed with a lighter oak finish.

She learned that hobby during her convalescence from an accident which was the result of a fire.

"At 11 p. m. one night a fire started in our home in Frankfort. As Henry was attempting to put it out, I ran out to the curb to flag down someone to help. The driver failed to see me and his truck struck me."

Mrs. Ward also is an ardent gardener, likes to work in the yard, and already has planted 150 perennials. "They're in a spot shaded by fruit trees, so I think they are safe from the weather."

She believes that the Mansion is outstandingly beautiful, but wasted. "It's surprising how few Frankfort people have been there."

Mrs. Ward plans to remedy that when her husband is elected.

FOUR COFFEES a day are not unusual. Her visit here was her sixth such area one, and she has about as many more to go.

"I dislike hats, but bought four. This is my last one." She referred to a becoming green straw, garlanded with colorful flowers which set of her stunning bone-white silk ensemble.

She's a handful. Invariably her hat blows off when she leaves a plane and she wants to run after it. I tell her no wife of a candidate for governor can do that.

Gladys gives out with a great big laugh. "Being the wife of a candidate is no different from being my old self," she says, "so if my hat blows off I'll just go after it as I would have done if Henry wasn't a candidate for governor."

You can just bet her attitude will be the same if Henry is elected governor. She'll still be friendly, gregarious, charming Gladys Ward... always interested in her friends, her family and her husband's career.

Indicted For Murder
Melvin Harrison, 39, Chicago, was indicted for murder last week by the Fulton Grand Jury. The charge resulted in the fatal shooting March 18 of Harrison's brother-in-law, Jack Hogg, in Fulton.

Mrs. Byck is a life-time member of the Louisville Orchestra, a member of the Board of Overseers at the University of Louisville and the Board of Counselors of Catherine Spaulding College. She has served on the Governor's Commission of Human Rights and is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee and national Democratic committeewoman for Kentucky.

Dr. Golden was the first woman to serve on the membership committee of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce. Nine years ago she founded the Kentuckiana Center for Handicapped Children.

Mrs. Elise Lewis is president and chief executive officer of the W. M. Cissell Manufacturing Company and is a member of the Kentucky Children's Home Board of Directors and the Louisville Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Schmidt has been secretary-treasurer of Henderson Tire and Retreading, Inc., for twenty years, is chairman of the Henderson Arthritis Drive, the City-County Legislation Committee, the Chamber of Commerce, Beta Sigma Phi and Junior Achievement.

Mrs. Westpheling is editor and co-publisher of the Fulton County News and consultant to Radio Station WFUL. She is a member of the Kentucky Press Association and has won 32 KPA awards for news-writing. She has served three times as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention and helped in establishing the International Banana Festival.

The awards were presented by John M. Lewis, executive vice president of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the panel of judges.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt thanked those attending the luncheon for "the great help you have rendered to Kentucky and to me personally to carry out programs that are vitally important."

The governor said that when he needs something done he "calls on the women. Of the real reforms in the state you have been the leaders."

Mrs. Libby Walthall, president of the State Federation of B&PW Clubs, presided at the luncheon attended by representatives of each of the B&PW Clubs in Kentucky.

RAIN—
in the county's hill land — but enough of it will be lost in the delta to cause a noticeable blow to the income.

Watts said farmers might lose 700 to 1,000 acres of the 3,500 acres of cotton the county is allotted. He said corn loss might amount to 1,000 acres. The usual Fulton corn crop amounts to 15,000 acres or more and 1,000 to 10,000 acres have been planted.

Watts said the crop income probably would be cut 10 to 15 per cent, "counting everything."

Calloway County, which suffered one of the most damaging hailstorms in history last Thursday night, was "wet down" by about four inches of rain over the weekend.

The hail beat down pastures and small grain and other crops, particularly in the Providence section of the county. Cars and trucks were damaged extensively.

Overall hail damage may run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In Dyer County, Tennessee alone, heavy rains and flooding resulted in an estimated two-million dollar crop loss and closed US 51 for a time. Neighboring Lake County reported 13 inches of rain in the 3-day weekend period and a two-million-dollar crop loss in the cotton and wheat fields.

OBION COUNTY

Joe Martin, County Agent
Union City, Tenn.

STOP - READ THE LABEL

Several thousand acres of corn have already been planted in Obion County and cotton and soybean planting is underway. An increasing amount of chemical in the way of herbicides, insecticides and fungicides are being used this year, and we should always remember to STOP and read the chemical labels carefully. Follow chemical labels on all chemicals used. The more we use chemicals, the more careful we get about reading labels. Of course, this is when we tend to make a mistake that can be costly.

If any of the chemicals have directions stipulating a certain number of days between application and harvest, we should be careful to allow at least the number of days listed on the label before harvest.

We have already observed several fields where pre-emerge damaged stands of corn because label directions were not followed.

A Vote For Henry Maddox
Is A Vote For Progress

HENRY MADDOX

Maddox has sponsored many progressive bills, such as House Bill No. 131, which was the River Port Authority Bill. This was the first bill ever on the Statute Books pertaining to river ports or still water ports. He was the sponsor of this bill in the 1964 session. When this bill became a law, Louisville was the first to use it on its river front. Now many other towns have used it. We are sure his bill was a big factor in getting the Carborundum Plant in his home town of Hickman. Many other industrial plants will use it in the future. We are sure that Beasley Construction Company, and the paper mill, if it should be built, will be benefitted by this bill. Most large industries are located on rivers for cheap transportation and many plants require an abundance of water.

WE THINK HIS STAND ON THE REVISED CONSTITUTION SHOULD BE REMEMBERED. HE FOUGHT HARD FOR THE PEOPLE'S INTEREST.

He has Done An Outstanding Job
As Our Representative

He will always be remembered in the State of Kentucky, so let us in his four county-area remember him the 23rd of May by giving him the largest majority of votes that any one has or will ever get. Just remember what John Ruckin said over 100 years ago. "When we fail to praise a man who deserves praise, two sad things happen. We run a chance of driving him from the right road for want of encouragement and we deprive ourselves of one of the happiest of all privileges—that of rewarding labor that deserves a reward."

84th Big Singing Planned At Benton

BENTON, Ky. — Big Singing, Day — the last stronghold of shape-note song—will be held for the 84th consecutive year here on May 28.

Unique among American music festivals, Big Singing Day is the only gathering where shape-note music, often called Southern harmony, still is sung exclusively.

The written music Benton singers use employs four symbols; the note "F" is represented by a triangular note-head, "G" is round, "A" is square, "B" is diamond-shaped, and the succession is repeated up the scale.

The system is said to have originated in 1834, the brainchild of "Singing Billy" Walker, an evangelist, who thought the invention would enable anyone to read music readily. But its simplicity was more apparent than real, and in time shape-note singing virtually vanished — except here.

At 10 a.m. on Big Singing Day, a songleader will stand before a Marshall County courthouse congregation and sound the first note. Taking the cue, singers will begin to perform their repertoire of old songs, including many traditional hymns of their own Welsh ancestors.

During the course of the singing, which will not end till 3 p.m. or later, hundreds of singers and curious tourists will show up.

It also is a time of homecoming for many families.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Assassinating a President

To many foreigners, and to many Americans as well, one of the oddest aspects of the assassination of President Kennedy was that the United States had no law against it.

Was this just a legislative oversight? Not at all. On the contrary, such a law had been proposed and debated a number of times over the years—and had always been turned down.

Of course, that does not mean the assassination was legal. The lack of a federal law merely reflects the fact that, in this country, the punishment of crime has always been entrusted primarily to the individual states. The presidential assassination, while not forbidden by federal law, was clearly forbidden by the laws of every state.

Why this arrangement? For reasons both historical and geographical, most crimes fit more naturally into state and local jurisdiction. It would seem strange indeed to have the federal government prosecuting the man who holds up the corner grocery or who drives recklessly down Main Street.

And the Constitution itself, while giving the states a free hand to deal with crime, gives the federal government no such leeway. The federal government may punish crime only if the power is:

- 1) given expressly (for example, the power to punish treason); or
- 2) given by implication (for example, the power to punish interference with the United States mail).

As a rule, the crime of murder has no peculiar significance to the federal government. Neither expressly nor by implication does the Constitution give the federal government a general power to punish homicide.

Yet, murdering the President is more than just murdering a man. It is a blow at the government itself, because it destroys the central repository of the nation's executive authority.

Furthermore, as a practical matter, federal agencies—which have the duty to protect the President—should be better able to investigate such a crime.

The Kennedy assassination lent fresh urgency to these considerations. And at last, 176 years after the nation began, Congress has finally given overwhelming approval to a bill making it a federal offense to kill the chief executive. The maximum penalty: death.

Following his tour of duty he attended Purdue University at Lafayette, Indiana and Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas.

LARRY HOPKINS

Hopkins has been in the securities industry for eight years and during this time he has helped in the development of two insurance companies—Life Insurance Company of Kentucky and Kentucky Family Security Insurance Co. Currently he is employed by J. J. B. Hilliard, W. L. Lyons, and Co.

Hopkins is in demand as a speaker and is an advocate of the free enterprise system. His title speech is "Are You Part of the Problem, or Part of the Answer?"

A capacity crowd is expected for the annual dinner this year.

Kenton CP Has Pastor

Rev. William L. Cottrell, 37, a native of Troy, and presently pastor of an Olton, Texas church, has accepted a call to the pastorate of Kenton Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

The Kenton pulpit has been vacant since March 26 when

REV. WILLIAM L. COTTRELL

Rev. D. K. Richardson left to accept a call to the Mt. Denison church near Springfield, Tenn.

If everything goes according to plan, Rev. Mr. Cottrell will move to Kenton the week of May 21. He is tentatively scheduled to preach his first sermon as pastor of the church Sunday, May 28, according to Carl Smith, a member of the pulpit committee.

Mr. Cottrell is a former pastor of the Mt. Olive church near Dyer. While pastoring the Mt. Olive church he also did part-time work at Bethesda church in Crockett county. He pastored a church near Fulton, Ky., and while there was executive secretary of the famed Banana Festival held there annually.

"He is an outstanding civic leader," Mr. Smith said. "And he is an exceptional speaker and toastmaster as well as a preacher. We are fortunate to secure a man of his ability to lead our church."

Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell have four children. He was in Kenton three weeks ago to preach a trial sermon.

He has been associated with ministerial and educational work all his life. Mr. Smith said, and is doing some teaching in Texas. He is very active in PTA work and holds a lifetime membership in the Tennessee Congress of PTA.

Hamilton Seeks To Amend Bill

Union City's State Rep. Milton Hamilton Jr. this afternoon offered an amendment to the teacher retirement bill which, if accepted, would increase the retirement benefits of some 1,500 teachers over the state. The teacher retirement bill, in general, greatly simplifies the means of figuring a teacher's retirement benefits.

er's retirement benefits through the use of a fixed formula.

Mr. Hamilton's amendment to this bill would benefit teachers who retired some years ago before teachers were covered by Social Security.

These teachers, he said today, now receive benefits at the rate of $4.34 a month times the number of years they taught.

The Hamilton amendment would increase this figure to $5. For example, if a teacher taught for 20 years, she would be eligible to receive $100 a month in retirement benefits.

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON, HICKMAN, CARLISLE, MARSHALL AND GRAVES COUNTIES:

COUNTIES:

There has been a lot of discussion in the past few weeks pertaining to the type of campaign being conducted by my opponents.

I do not believe the Office of State Senator should be degraded by "low type" campaigns. My opponents speak about a "new image" but they still campaign on the same level as always.

I would like to let the voters of the First Senatorial District know that I do not agree with "mud-slinging," "name calling" politics. There is just one issue in this campaign — WHO CAN MOST HELP THE FIRST SENATORIAL DISTRICT IN KENTUCKY. I believe that I am qualified to do this. There are thirty seven other Senators to work with in Frankfort — all working as a team to better the State. No one man can do it all. I will, however, do my part in working with the other Senators to make a better Kentucky.

I am running this race on my own. I do not have the support of the State Administration or the street corner politicians. I decided eight years ago that when I retired from public work I would seek the office of State Senator. I made this decision because I wanted to continue serving the people of West Kentucky. With your help I can do so.

I have traveled over this District for the past 18 years and I think I know the needs of its people. I have worked at public work for several years and I know the problems of the working man. I have lived on a fixed income and I know the problems this brings. I have farmed most of my life and I know the needs and problems of the farmer. With my brother I have operated a grocery and I know some of the problems facing a small business man. I am mature, experienced and sober. With this background, I believe I can competently represent the people of the First Senatorial District. This is my only purpose in seeking the office of State Senator.

I again ask that you elect me as your next State Senator. In doing so, it is neither my wish or intent to slur either of my opponents. I feel that a man should seek public office on his own merits, not on the demerits of his opponents. If you agree, I ask for your vote. If you disagree, I suggest you vote for one of the others.

I believe that if you will consider this matter carefully, you will go to the polls and elect Elton (Buck) Ramage for your State Senator on May 23, 1967.

Cordially and sincerely,

Danger: The Dotted Line

"I know you can't help me," a woman wrote this column recently, "but since so many are caught this way, I thought it would be a good subject for an article."

Which way was she "caught"? She had signed an order for a set of books, offered by a door-to-door salesman. Later, when she talked it over with her husband, they decided they could not afford the purchase.

Unhappily, however, she had no grounds for getting out of her contract except that she had changed her mind. And, as she herself realized too late, that was not enough.

A dotted line, like a railroad crossing, is a good place for caution. In the vast majority of cases, at least if you are an adult, the law will hold you to what you sign—no matter what second thoughts you might have afterward.

This sternness is based on practical necessities. Countless business transactions in everyday life are based on the understanding, on both sides of the bargain, that a signature is binding. We would have commercial chaos if agreements, formally entered into, could be cast aside at will.

True, the law may let you out of a signed contract if there are special circumstances that justify relief. Most often, such cases involve some kind of fraud. For fraud "infects" a contract and makes it subject to cancellation.

Here is an example: A used car dealer held his hand over a vital clause of the purchase agreement while the customer was reading and signing it. When this chicanery was established in court, the judge held the customer not bound by his signature.

You may also be "let off the hook" if you signed under the pressure of undue influence or duress (such as a menacing fist in your face).

But excuses like "I didn't read it before I signed" are usually of little avail in the courtroom.

In one case, a man said he had not read the contract because he did not have his glasses with him. Unimpressed, the court held him just as bound as if he had read every word.

It is a hard way to learn that, as one judge put it:

"Signatures to obligations are not mere ornaments."

THE SWORD OF THE SPIRIT

"The Sword of the Spirit . . . is the Word of God" (Eph. 6:17). Of all the spiritual armor which believers are told to "put on" in Eph. 6:11-18, there is only one offensive weapon. This is "the Sword of the Spirit . . . the Word of God." The Bible is called the Sword of "the Spirit," because the Spirit of God is its Author. It is called "the Sword" of the Spirit because, thus written by God who knows all, it can cut deeply. This makes it a formidable weapon against Satan and the forces of evil operating all about us. We are told in Hebrews 4:12, 13: "The Word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in His sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of Him with whom we have to do." As David said long ago: "O Lord, Thou has searched me, and known me. "Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising; Thou understandest my thoughts afar off" (Psalm 139:1, 2).

It is because God knows and understands us so thoroughly that His word can sometimes cut us so deeply. How wise, then to bow before that Blessed Book, acknowledge its condemnation of sin and trust the Savior it presents! And, having done this, how wise to "put on the whole armor of God," not forgetting to "take . . . the Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God!"

CLINTON, Ky. — A gracious lady lawyer, who has no plans for retiring, is 73-year-old Mrs. Nancy Day Montgomery of Clinton.

MRS. MONTGOMERY

She has served as a public official for a total of 23 years — 13 as Circuit Court clerk and 10 as county attorney. In 1941, Mrs. Montgomery was elected county attorney of Hickman County and served in that office from 1942 until 1946. She was not a nominee of either party, but was elected as a write-in candidate under the Democratic label. In January, 1946, she retired from public office, but a few years ago, in April, 1960, she again returned to the office of county attorney, serving until January, 1966. She filled a two-year unexpired term by appointment, then was elected to a four-year term. She did not seek the office during the last election.

Mrs. Montgomery is quite definite in her view that a woman is under no handicap as an attorney.

Attractive and stately, Mrs. Montgomery is a leading professional woman. Mrs. Montgomery, a director of the First National Bank at Clinton, has served the people of her county as deputy Circuit Court clerk, Circuit Court clerk and county attorney and, in addition, has served the Commonwealth of Kentucky as a member of the Board of Charities and Corrections.

The woman attorney has been listed in Who's Who of American Women.

Mrs. Montgomery's busy career also has included faithful service to the Democratic party — she was a member of the State Central Democratic Committee for four years, and she has given of her time to both church and school work.

Mrs. Montgomery has been active in church work with the First Methodist Church of Clinton, where she has taught a Sunday School class for about 35 years. She was a delegate to the Southeast Jurisdictional Conference at Roanoke, Va. in 1952 as the first woman, excepting WSCS presidents, representing the Memphis Conference of the Methodist Church. In 1956, she again was a delegate to the Jurisdictional Conference at Junaluska, N. C., and a delegate to the General Conference in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Montgomery is a member of the Kentucky State Bar Association and has served as a director of the First National Bank in Clinton for about 23 years. In addition to her other interests, she also operated a farm in Tennessee from her husband's death in 1937 until about 1950.

Mrs. Montgomery was born in Hickman County near Clinton on Dec. 11, 1893, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Day. Her mother was the former Miss Hettie Elliott. Both parents are now dead.

When young Miss Nancy Day was seven years old her family moved to Clinton, where she attended the public schools and enrolled at old Marvin College and was graduated there in 1911.

After her graduation from Marvin College, Miss Day taught school for two years at the high school in Ripley, Tenn. Mixing teaching with studying, during this time she attended for one year the Normal School at Memphis that is now Memphis State College where she took a liberal arts course.

Miss Day first began her public career in the courthouse in 1915 as deputy Circuit Court clerk and was elected to the office of Circuit Court clerk in 1921, taking office in January of 1922. She served as clerk until 1928.

Having qualified for the practice of law during her stay in the Circuit Court clerk's office, Miss Day was returned to the bar in September of 1927 and opened her law office in Clinton in January of 1928.

Her successful law practice continued until December 1931 when she was married to Frank Montgomery of Brownsville, Tenn. During 1932 and 1933 Mrs. Montgomery was busy as a homemaker, first on her husband's farm in Tennessee and later in Clinton. In 1933 she returned to the practice of law and is still active in that profession.

Mrs. Montgomery has been a member of the Eastern Star for approximately 44 years, first at Clinton and later at Clara Heinrich chapter in Paducah.

Mrs. Montgomery has been a Kentucky Colonel since 1927.

The Clinton woman lives alone in her home on Beeler Hill. Mrs. Montgomery plans to continue her law practice because she enjoys to be with people.

"I have no close relatives and living alone, I would be lonely if I did not continue to work," she said.

Frozen Asset

Fudge Sundae Pie belongs in the category of do-it-ahead dishes so beloved by hostesses. But it has much more than that alone to recommend it. Family or guests will be delighted with this frozen concoction for it is highlighted by a chocolate-rich sauce that owes its especially smooth character to miniature marshmallows. Additional good news for the cook — there's no fussing with candy thermometers or carefully boiling to a specific stage; the only thing necessary for the sauce is to combine the milk, semi-sweet chocolate and the marshmallows and cook, stirring over medium heat until blended and thick.

Fudge Sundae Pie

1 cup evaporated milk 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet Vanilla wafers chocolate pieces 1 qt. vanilla ice cream
1 cup miniature marshmallows Pecan halves
Combine milk, chocolate, marshmallows and salt. Stir over medium heat until marshmallows and chocolate melt and mixture thickens; cool. Line bottom and sides of a 9-inch plate (or two 1-quart refrigerator trays) with vanilla wafers. Fill with half of ice cream; cover with half the chocolate sauce. Repeat layers; garnish with pecans. Freeze.

voted FOR

EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN

Senator Brand voted for SB 207, which gives equal pay for all women where they are doing the same work as a man — This bill became a law on March 24, 1966 with Governor Breathitt's signature — I was criticized for this vote, but, I thought it was only fair, moral vote to make, my opponent did not think so.

I co-sponsored a bill for a $5000 homestead tax exemption for every home owner, a humane tax relief to our senior citizens that made this country the greatest nation on earth — We are sending billions to foreign countries, I want to do something for our people at home. Mr. Opponent how could you be so cruel to criticize this vote? This bill would have been a tax relief to every home owner in Mayfield of $47.90, and, to every home owner in Graves County of $25.75 (other counties can figure $5000 by that tax rate and arrive at their tax relief.)

Your negro labor leaders say I voted against labor on two bills, one was the civil rights bill, I am proud of that vote — the other bill was when I voted against removing tax on liquor and placing it on your home. I hurt labor in Louisville, they say. I say I am proud of this vote too. I was voting for West Ky. as we don't make liquor down here.

Mr. Opponent, tell the people how you will vote on the open housing bill. I will vote against it. The people are entitled to know.

Mr. Opponent, tell the people how you voted on wrecking the constitution — I have an honor for working and voting against it.

Mr. Opponent, you have all the negro labor leaders endorsements (the workers are for me) why don't you have an endorsement from your own profession (the lawyers) they know you the best.

Mr. Opponent, where is all this money coming from you are spending to defeat me? Is it coming from the politicians because I voted against the property tax raise? Is it coming from the distilleries because I voted against removing tax on liquor or is W. C. Young the negro labor leader with N.A.A.C.P. seeking revenge for my voting against the civil rights bill?

Mr. Opponent from Louisville, the people want to know, they are entitled to know after all you have not told them yet. What you are for or what you are against.

I have nobody for me except the people

PAMPERING THE SWEET TOOTH

Among the four basic taste sensations, that of sweetness is perhaps the most prized. There are a few gourmets who savor bitterness, some who like the sharp tang of acid. Salt is usually preferred for its subtle influence on other tastes, but occasionally for itself.

Almost everyone goes for sweets. And there a problem arises. The natural sweet taste of foods comes from their sugar content. Sweetness is insufficient in some, and overshadowed in others by the acids, as in some citrus fruits. And so the taste is supplemented by the addition of the sugar we know best, sucrose, derived mainly from the sugar cane and the sugar beet. And this has, in addition to its delightful taste, "dose of" debbil calories!"

Besides, it has been indicated by dentists as a contributing cause of dental decay. And the cruelest blow of all, nutritionists hold it in contempt as a source of "empty calories." Only the food faddists love sugar, and then only in its unrefined form.

Sugar Useful

In defense of sugar, it is only fair to say that used in reasonable moderation, it contributes relatively few calories to a properly balanced diet. Its alleged "emptiness" of mineral and vitamin contributions, likewise is counterbalanced by the rest of the diet. As to dental decay—the proper use of the toothbrush offsets much of the damage done by sticky sweets clinging to the teeth.

In two circumstances, sugar and starches must be reduced in the diet. One is diabetes, and the other is a strict reducing diet, where there is no allowance for luxury items. In such circumstances, those who insist on pampering the sweet tooth, have a handy way of doing so in the artificial sweeteners now available. The principal ones are:

Saccharin, a white powder which has roughly 500 times the sweetening power of sugar;

Cyclamates, sodium or calcium (Sucaryl), also have a very high sweetening power (the calcium form is for sodium-restricted diets);

Sorbitol, a sweet-tasting alcohol found in imported low-calorie food preparations; unsuitable for diabetics.

The first two artificial sweeteners are available in solution, powder or tablets. Their sweetening power in relation to customary quantities of sugar used in recipes depends on the preparation; the maker's instructions should be followed.

The safety of sweeteners has been questioned. In 1955 the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences—National Research Council, recommended them, and repeated this advice in 1962. A 1965 declaration by the Food and Drug Administration repeats the assurance of safety, "as presently used."

SEE SCENIC KENTUCKY FIRST is the advice given this young family by W. L. Knight, director of the State Public Information Department's travel division and a travel host at a recent vacation and travel show in Columbus, Ohio. The department will operate Kentucky vacation-information booths at 15 travel, vacation and sports shows held in major cities this spring and fall. Knight estimates that more than 7,000,000 persons, all potential tourists, will receive first-hand information about Kentucky vacation opportunities as a result of these shows.

FALLS 21 FLOORS
Tulsa, Okla.—Doctors say a 35-year-old carpenter who fell floors down a trash chute has a good change for recovery.

Bobby Gene Williams suffered multiple fractures and deep lacerations when he lost his balance and fell down the chute and landed on a pile of trash.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

Ky. Dept. of Agriculture Frankfort

The Spring season always brings intensified activities by the Division of Pest and Noxious Weed Control. Throughout the winter months, the Division operates with a skeleton staff devoting itself to assisting in community rodent control campaigns, policing the commercial termite and pest control industry, and doing modification work and overhauling the complicated equipment utilized by the agency in its service programs.

Come April, however, things start bustling for the division. Seasonal employees are called back to work and the program "goes to the field." Such is the nature of the duties of the division that is headed by Coburn Gayle.

The salt marsh mosquito is a persistent, tough enemy that must be faced each Spring. The campaign starts in the swampy areas of western Kentucky and the first phase is the task of larviciding the backwater and material, Dibrom 14, is being used this season. Gayle said that it is proven to be an effective control agent with a low level of toxicity for humans, animals, and birds. In the remote unpopulated areas, DDT will be used.

Elsewhere the division is conducting a service program of nodding thistle control. Right now the technicians of the division are treating the fields of many farms in more than a half dozen counties with 2,4-D to eradicate this noxious weed.

Although the division has not commenced its Johnson grass control campaign, plans are now being devised to launch the program in many counties about June 1. In this program the division supplies technical assistance and spraying equipment to landowners as an aid in their efforts to rid their farms of Johnson grass.

Each year at about this time Gayle finds it necessary to warn overgrown areas to destroy the mosquito larvae a-borning. Total victory is never achieved, however, and millions of mosquitoes hatch and are soon on the wing to annoy humans and terrorize livestock. Then, too, the threat of the encephalitis-bearing (sleeping sickness) culex mosquito must never be minimized.

Along with the mosquito the division becomes airborne--in early April, weather permitting--and the two airplanes of the department start the daily grind of aerial spraying. Covering hundreds of acres each flying day, these planes will continue their task right on up to frost. Although the "kill" is real good, the effectiveness is only 10-14 days due to the short residual life of the chemicals used and the probability of rain diluting it. A new crop of mosquitoes hatches and soon another swarm of adult mosquitoes is in the air to challenge man and his technology. A new spray homeowners of the damage that termites and other structural pests can do to their property. The termite swarming season is now on and owners are urged to carefully inspect their property for the presence of wood-infesting termites. Unfortunately, many property owners have been victimized by unscrupulous termite exterminators. Although the division constantly polices this industry to weed out the few that are incompetent and disreputable, it seems that every year some of them are able to negotiate lucrative contracts which they never fulfill. Gayle advises every property owner who suspects the presence of termites on his premises to obtain inspection and costs estimates from two or three licensed, reputable firms. Legitimate operators welcome the opportunity to solicit business on this basis, he added.

CASH OR CHARGE, DADDY?

USE YOUR CREDIT. OFTEN. WISELY. IN HEALTH AND IN SICKNESS

Sickness doesn't check credit references before it strikes. What a comfort to realize that emergency health services are not on a cash-only basis. You become a charge customer when your doctor bills you for his services after you have received his care. For your day-to-day health care, the credit he extends you is based on reports he receives from the local credit bureau — the same reports other professional and business people in your community consult.

Good credit is important to you and easy to enjoy. Just see that you pay as agreed — promptly when due, in correct amounts — and your local credit bureau records will reflect your integrity. Furthermore, if you should move to any city across the nation, you would want credit there. No problem: your good credit history is quickly available to the local credit bureau through its professional affiliation with the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc.
